

The Commendation for Science and Technology by the Minister of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology in Japan

Dr. Masanori IIBA

Director, Department of Structural Engineering

Dr. Iiba was awarded the Prize for Science and Technology in the Development Category of the Commendation for Science and Technology by the Minister of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology in 2008. The awarding ceremony was held at the Toranomon Pastoral Hotel, Tokyo on the 15th of April 2008.

He won the prize for research and development of seismically isolated system applicable to house. His great achievements in the field of science and technology contribute to the development of people's life as well as to the progress of society and economy in Japan.

On behalf of the Building Research Institute, we send him our warmest congratulations on the award. We are looking forward to his continuing success in his next stage.