Call for Papers
35th CIB W078 2018 Conference
IT in Design, Construction and Management

On behalf of the CIB W078 Conference Organizing Committee, we are pleased to invite you to join us in Chicago, Illinois, for the 35th CIB W78 2018 Conference: IT in Design, Construction and Management, which will be held October 01-03, 2018 at the Illinois Institute of Technology.

Like those before us, this year's Technical Committee has put together an outstanding technical program, with topics grouped into six clusters related to advances in technologies, informatics, and computing for the design, construction, and operation of building and infrastructure projects (see complete list of conference topics by using the following link: Topics).

We have the honor of featuring invited speakers that include esteemed academic leaders who have made significant contributions and impacts in our areas of research.

We invite you to participate alongside these contributors through the submission of an abstract and, upon selection, a complete paper. Please note that extended versions of selected papers will be published in a special issue of /Buildings/. There will also be a best student paper awards competition, and we thank you for promoting this event among your advisees.

Paper submission instructions can be reached using the following link: Information for Authors. Springer Publishing Company will release a print version of the proceedings with full papers, titled "Advances in Informatics and Computing in Civil and Construction Engineering".

Springer will release the proceedings to institutional subscribers via electronic collections and make the book available in eBooks sold on Amazon and other online outlets.

Deadline for submitting abstracts: January 31

As this is the first time the conference will be hosted in Chicago, the Organizing Committee has planned for a selection of pre-arranged tours. To fully appreciate both the conference and the city, we encourage you to plan for an extended visit.

We look forward to yet another excellent CIB W078 conference, and to the opportunity of welcoming you at Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago. Best of luck in your submissions and thank you for supporting this important event.
